Art Classes

Let me teach you how to draw or paint, on your own time. Individual or small classes 5 days a week. Art Classes at The Painting Cave are designed in a way to reduce the stress in a working parents or a High School student's life. Classes are available to you at times that suite you. You will not only learn the basics and finer detail of drawing and painting, but will also be introduced to the works of some of the world's most famous artists. You will learn to work with acrylics paint and drawing material. You will also learn about colour, value-pattern and composition. In this class you will be guided to develop your own style. We will explore your interests as an artist and I will help you to reach your potential concentrating on your personal aspirations.

You will be encouraged to paint subjects of your choice and taught according to your level of experience in drawing or painting.

- The class fees are R1 000 per person per month payable in advance.
- This entitles you to 4 or 5 weekly scheduled sessions per month. (this is when you have my undivided attention to provide a teaching class)
- You are entitled to as many unscheduled sessions per month as you like (this is when you come to socialise with other artists or just to paint or draw and you get to use all our facilities - easels, tables, light tables, sanders, hairdryers etc)
- Each teaching session is 2 hours long.
- You may attend classes at any time while the studio is open. There are a number of months in a year where there are 5 weeks. These additional classes in these months will make up for 2 weeks over Christmas and New Year when the studio will be closed
- Alternatively you may book an individual session (2 hours) at R400 per session should you require a single or succession of classes to complete a specific project with my guidance. This will however not entitle you to the use of the studio in unscheduled sessions.
- Payment required on enrolment

Group and individual bookings will be accepted
